LONDON.

TO THE
ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF CANTERBURY.

GENTLEMEN,

THE late contest for Members to represent your ancient City in Parliament being unprecedented, not only from the Numbers who voted, but from the great Exertions used by the Friends of the respective Candidates, during a Poll which was continued with unremitting Zeal for the Space of four Days, made me presume a correct Copy from the Sheriff's Books would not be unacceptable to you. Every Idea to render the Information not only useful but intelligent has been suggested, and I trust will answer that desirable Purpose.--- A few Errors have occurred, which the Complexity of the Attempt will plead an Excuse for; and my best Thanks are due for the truly respectable List of Names which I was favoured with before the Publication of the Work,

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obliged

Parade, Canterbury,

July 17, 1796.

humble Servant,

W. BRISTOW.

APPENDIX.

SKETCH of the ARGUMENTS used by the learned Counsel on each side, respecting the RIGHT of Persons who had received PAROCHIAL RELIEF to Vote; with the manly Decision of the Recorder of Canterbury thereon, (who acted as Counsel to the Sheriff.)

AFTER the poll was closed, and before the Sheriff had made his declaration, Mr. Harvey, as leading Counsel for Mr. Gipps and Sir John Honeywood, begged leave to state to the Sheriff his objections to the votes of Paupers being received at this Election as legal votes, and these objections he should make generally at this time, and not against any particular description of Paupers, these would come to be argued in another stage of the enquiry, in case the Sheriff should be of opinion that the general objections were well founded, and therefore he submitted to the Sheriff, "That the persons under the description of Paupers had not a right to vote at this Election." To shew which Mr. Harvey contended, that by the Common Law of this land, (a Law of the highest consequence in this country, having its derivation from immemorial custom) persons who stood in this situation, who were indebted to the Public for their livelihood and support, are held to be discharged from every office of trust, and from thence become disabled, and are deemed by law incompetent to discharge the greatest of all legal functions; the returning Representatives to serve in Parliament, as in point of fact they have nothing in the State at issue, nor can they be at all affected either in person or estate, let the conduct of their Representatives be ever so distant from what it ought to be; and in this view have the House of Commons uniformly acted in all questions of this nature which have come before them, by determining against the Right of Paupers to vote.

Mr. Harvey said that the case now arguing was a new one as to this city, because he believed that till the last election, no exception whatever had been made to the Paupers votes. At that Election notice had been taken of them, but the majority of votes being so great in favor of the then returned Members, the other Candidates did not think it expedient to go into a Scrutiny at all. Now therefore came the first legal application to a Sheriff for his determination of the legality of these votes. The present Sheriff, from such respectable authority as the uniform decisions of the House of Commons, and under the direction of the Recorder, would, he presumed, conceive it his duty to determine in favour of the present enquiry. Mr. Harvey said, that it might be alleged, that depriving Paupers of voting infringed on the Freedom of Election. This he denied; on the contrary, that it tended to render it more pure, as Paupers were more likely to be influenced in their votes than persons of independent situations. The learned Counsel used many ingenious arguments in support of his application to the Sheriff, and concluded by submitting to him, "That the votes of Paupers at this Election ought not to be received as legal votes, or remain a part of the Poll."

Mr. Abbott, as Counsel also for Mr. Gipps and Sir John Honywood in a concise and well adapted Address to the Sheriff, replete with argument and reasoning, followed Mr. Harvey on the same side also.

Mr. Serjeant Marshall, as leading Counsel for Mr. Baker and Mr. Sawbridge, then rose to address the Sheriff, in answer to the arguments of the learned Counsel who had just spoke, and we are sorry we are unable to do that justice to the Address, which it is so justly entitled to. He said, that his instructions were to contend, "That the votes of the Paupers, Freemen of this City, were legal votes, and ought to be received by the Sheriff as such. That he had very frequently looked into the laws upon this subject, and never could find through many laborious researches in the books, any one existing law of this land, which deprived a Pauper of his Franchise in a right of voting for Representatives in Parliament; and being convinced there was no such law, he therefore appealed to the Sheriff how hard would be the case to deprive a poor man of the only valuable and consequential privilege he possessed, because his misfortunes in life, his age, or some bodily infirmity, may have made it expedient for him to apply to his parish for perhaps a temporary relief only to his necessities; which relief he applies not for as a favor, but demands it as a matter of right, granted and secured to him by the laws of his country; no law, therefore, being against the right, every species of equity must operate in favor of it. The learned Serjeant admitted that the House of Commons had, in certain cases, decided that Paupers had not a right to vote, but that this did not at all interfere with the Right which had uniformly been exercised by all Persons enjoying the Freedom of this City; and he instanced the case of the Town of Sandwich, where a Committee of the House of Commons had decided the Alms Poor had a Right to vote at that Town. The learned Serjeant, after answering the gentlemen on the other side, concluded by hoping the Sheriff would be of his opinion, "That the Votes of the Paupers should be received as GOOD VOTES, and stand part of the Poll."

Mr. Venner, as Counsel also for Mr. Baker and Mr. Sawbridge, followed the Serjeant, and used many arguments on the same side.

Mr. Harvey then addressed the Sheriff by way of reply, and commented with great ability on the arguments of Mr. Serjeant Marshall and Mr. Venner, and on the case produced by the Serjeant as to the Town of Sandwich, which Mr. Harvey contended did not apply, because, as appears by the case itself, the house disagreed to the report of the Committee.

During the time the Counsel were arguing this question, a Paper, of which the following is a copy, was put into the Hands of the Sheriff, who, after the Counsel had finished, gave it to the Recorder (his Counsel) who read it openly at the Poll Table.

"WE, the undersigned Freemen of the City of Canterbury, do protest against a Scrutiny of the Votes taken and registered in the Poll Book at this Election, and do demand of the Sheriff that he do make a Declaration of the State of the Poll as originally closed by his order: And we do also formally Protest against any Agreement or Compromise entered into either by the Candidates, or by the Counsel employed by them, without our knowledge or consent.

* By Mr. W. Epps.

Mr. Recorder then, as Counsel for the Sheriff, with great spirit observed on the great illegality and impropriety of the persons who subscribed and delivered to the Sheriff this paper, acting as he then was under the authority of the Law in general, and an Act of Parliament expressly empowering him to grant a scrutiny, if legally required, if he so thought proper. The Recorder said, he was afraid of no man, or any set of men whatever, in the discharge of his duty. He was confident the Sheriff placed in the public and responsible situation he was, would be equally as firm in the discharge of the duties of his office. The present instance was so illegal, and so unbecoming, and the persons, whose signatures appeared to the Paper had acted so very improperly, that could he in his own mind form the smallest matter of doubt in the opinion he should give the Sheriff on the Right of voting argued by the Counsel, this Paper would more strongly operate in his mind, that the Scrutiny should take place, than any other reason whatever; and he had no doubt but the House of Commons, was the matter to come before them, would most seriously consider the tendency of this Paper, so delivered as it was, by way of threat to the Sheriff, whilst in the administration and legal execution of his office: nor would he answer for the consequences which might arise to the persons delivering it to him. Having said thus much, the Recorder proceeded to comment on the arguments of the Counsel on both sides; and after lamenting, that being in the habits of friendship with all the Candidates, some in an intimate, and others in a more remote degree, he should be called on to give his advice to the Sheriff on this occasion. He wished the Sheriff did not stand in need of it; and he had been in great hopes that the numbers of the Poll would have been so decisive on the one side or the other, that a Scrutiny on either side would not be demanded. However, the Recorder then said, that having long had the honor to fill the situation he then did in this City, no Election had taken place; but that he was fearful a majority might be so small, as that a Scrutiny of the present nature might be demanded, and therefore he had given the Law on the subject of the Right of Paupers to vote in this City the utmost consideration; for although this was stated to be a New Case, yet in fact it was not so; for the determination of the House of Commons, as to particular places, was as equally well known with respect to Paupers voting, previous to the last Election, as then, or now. The Recorder said he had most studiously looked into the Laws, and was clearly of opinion, that there was no existing law which, by the Common Statute, deprived Paupers from voting in general. With respect to the determinations of the House of Commons on the subject, those determinations which he had seen never went generally to the Kingdom at large, but to the particular places only which petitioned. The custom of this City having ever been to receive the votes of Paupers, and he knew no custom to be more effectual than its not being disputed, (although the House of Commons might, upon petition, strike off the votes of the Paupers) he should not in the present case advise the Sheriff to strike off their Votes, being of opinion—That they ought to remain as part of the Poll.

To this opinion the Sheriff acceded, and declared the Poll accordingly.

N. B. At this Election a Case was also argued by the learned Counsel on each side, respecting the legality of the votes of Mr. G. Ledger, of Dover, and Mr. Peter Burgefs, of Ramsgate, two Sub-Distributors of Stamps, which the Recorder determined in favor of their being received.
